are pleased to invite you to the international conference:

Development of Grammatical Terminology in Modern Languages. Antecedents – Parallels – Discrepancies which is to be held on 15-17 February 2024 in Warsaw

The conference is related to the development of Historical Dictionary of Grammatical Terms Online (<https://shtg.uw.edu.pl/>), which is being created at the Faculty of Polish Studies, University of Warsaw.

The event will be divided into the following thematic blocks:

- I. Speaking in a language about a language
- II. The boundaries of terminology: definitions of a grammatical term from a diachronic and modern perspective
- III. In opposition to Latin? The development of grammatical terminology in modern languages
- IV. Grammar vs linguistics: grammatical terminology – linguistic terminology
- V. Grammatical terminology in general dictionaries
- VI. Research on grammatical terminology across various countries

We hope that this meeting will be an opportunity to discuss the processes by which grammatical terms have developed in Polish and other national languages, the impact of individual languages and textbooks on the development of grammatical terminology, the various ways of analyzing linguistic terminology and the new research methods.

Works adopting a historical and comparative approach will be very welcome.

If you are interested in speaking at the conference, please fill out the application form and send over an abstract of your presentation by 15 October 2023.

We will send the confirmation of acceptance of your paper will be sent by the organizers by 30 November 2023.

The main languages used at the conference will be Polish and English. Sessions in sections will be held also in French, German and Russian (depending on the number of applications).

Each speaker will have 20 minutes to present their paper with additional 10 minutes for discussion.

Papers with positive reviews will be published.

Works to be published should be sent over by 1 March 2024 at the latest.

No fee will be charged for conference participation and materials, coffee breaks and the publication of accepted papers.

Other expenses (such as travel and accommodation costs) will be paid by speakers or delegating institutions.
